

City Lights teams with VVS

Deal is for theatrical, television, DVD distribution

By ADDIE MORFOOT

May 24, 2007

City Lights has partnered with Montreal based Canadian distributor VVS Films.

Deal is for theatrical, television, DVD and digital Canadian distribution to City Lights' content.

Projects already in the distribution pipeline for new deal include Canadian DVD rights to David Wain's comedy "The Ten," Alec Baldwin starrer "Brooklyn Rules," Rosario Dawson thriller "Descent" and doc "Manda Bala," which nabbed the Sundance '07 Grand Jury Prize.

In December Lights made a deal for video and digital distribution in the US with WEA Corp.